

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, April 18. 1724.

Naples, March 28.

SOME Days ago there arose such a terrible Hurricane in the Province of Terra di Lavoro, that they thought the Day of Judgment was coming. It was most felt near St. Germaine, a small Town at the Foot of Mount Cassin, five Miles distant from Casilian. The Earth was so much shaken, that the Ground two Miles round about was opened in several Places, and such prodigious Streams of Water spouted out, that they made a great and deep Lake; and as there is a subterraneous Noise still heard, all the Neighbourhood is in a continual Fright.

Lisbon, March 23. From the 1st of January to the 20th of March, there came into this Port 106 Merchant Ships, 3 Men of War; 6 English Packet Boats; 16 Dutch Vessels; 13 French, with one of their Men of War; 8 Portuguese Vessels; 5 Spanish; 3 Hamburgers; 2 Genoese; 1 Danish; and 1 Swedish, laden with all sorts of Merchandizes, but most with Corn: Within the same Space of Time there sailed from this Port 94 English Ships, besides 3 of their Men of War, and as many Packet Boats; 15 French Ships with their Man of War; 4 Dutch Vessels; 2 Portuguese; 2 Hamburgers; 1 Swedish; and 1 Venetian; so that now there are remaining here 76 English Ships; 14 Dutch; 9 French; 3 Spanish; 2 Hamburgers; 2 Imperial; 2 Genoese; 1 Danish; 1 Portuguese most ready to sail for the Rio de Janeiro; as also 2 for Angola; 2 for Bahia; one for Maranhon; one for All-Sainte; and another for our new Colony.

Lisbon, April 6. His Majesty has been pleased to name Philip de Miranda Knight of the Order of Christ, one of the Gentlemen of the Court, and appointed him to command the first Ship that shall go to the Indies, in Consideration of the good Services he has done his Majesty in those Parts. Captain Antonio Marinha has likewise had a Gratification from the King of 200,000 Reals for the like Service; several other Officers have also been rewarded in Proportion. On the 26th inst. a Auto de Fé was held at Evora in St. John's Church, where 26 Men and 9 Women received Sentence, amongst which three, who died in Prison, were represented in Effigie, and two Men and a Woman, that turned Christians, were pardoned. The Obliges for the late Pope Innocent XIII. have been this Day performed with great Solemnity in the Church of St. Loreto.

Paris, April 7. They write from Rheims in Champagne, that the Jesuit that preached the Lent Sermons in the Church of their College, made the Constitution Unigenitus the Subject of all his Sermons; and to show that the said Constitution is universally received, he set forth and maintained, that the same was approved in Heaven, upon the Earth, and even in Hell. Another Jesuit who preached during the Time of Lent in the Cathedral at Metz in the Duchy of Moselle, said and maintained in one of his Sermons such extravagant things upon the same Subject, and inveighed with such Vehemency against the Opposers of the said Bull, that the whole Audience was shocked at it. The Members of the Presidial Court went out of the Church while he was preaching, to show their Indignation, and some of the Clergy did the same. In short, the Discontent was so general, that the Abbot le Vayer, Dean of that Cathedral, though a Friend to the Jesuits, and a great Stickler for the Bull, could not forbear sending on the same Day for the Jesuit; but the Messenger found him in his Bed dangerously ill: The good Father preached with so much Warmth, that coming down from the Pulpit, he was on a sudden seized with a Fever, and let Blood immediately both in his Arm and Foot, so that we do not know whether he is still amongst the Living.

To the Curious.

Whereas the Artificial Bodies of the Human

Anatomy done at Paris from the Life in coloured Wax, were the space of four Years out of this Kingdom; this is to give Notice, that they are demonstrated and exposed again to the Sight of the Curious of both Sexes. A new Figure of natural Bigness has been added to the former, with several Parts a-funder, and other Rarities. The general Approbation this singular Work has had of the most Learned, who wonder every Day more and more at the Exactness of the Performance, is a sufficient Invitation to Curiosity. The limited Bounds of an Advertisement permit only to add, that there is nothing wanting to be expressed from the most apparent to the subtlest Parts of the human Body; besides, the full View, and the Explanation of the whole, made intelligible to every one, satisfy incomparably beyond all the Expressions that could be used. Daily Attendance is given from Ten a-Clock in the Morning till Seven in the Evening, at the White House, the left on the Right Hand by the Water-side, in Somerset-Water-Gate-Stairs in the Strand.
